Overview

Private information can easily become public knowledge if you don't take precautions. Meeting new standards in privacy protection, Targus 4Vu Privacy Screens ensure your valuable information is kept private without compromising screen clarity.

A narrow viewing angle – Targus 4Vu Privacy Screens restrict a monitor's viewing angle to 30 degrees on either side. This protects sensitive information both in the workplace and in public, allowing a comfortable browsing experience.

Ideal for multiple monitors – A 30 degree viewing angle is ideal for a multiple monitor workstation, creating enough space for a user to view numerous screens while still protecting information from outside eyes.
