Highlights

Activity Monitor

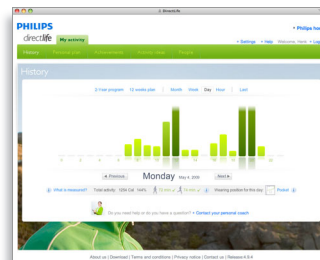

The key to a more active lifestyle is in understanding how even the smallest activities can contribute. The Activity Monitor helps you to get that insight. You wear it all day in your pocket, on your belt or around your neck and it measures everything you do. A set of green lights on the front of the monitor lets you check how close you are to your daily target while on the go. Connecting the monitor to your computer will show you your activity patterns in great detail.

Personal coach

Everyone's approach to fitness is different and there is no 'one size fits all' solution. That is why every DirectLife member gets their own personal coach. Your coach can answer your questions, help you tailor your plan and set your goals and give you activity ideas that fit your lifestyle and situation. Just email your coach and see what he or she can do for you.

Personal website

On your personal webpage you can find your activity plan, a wealth of activity ideas and tips as well your detailed activity history. You can see how much each of your activities contributed to your overall results in detailed hour by hour and even minute by minute views. Your website opens automatically when you connect your Activity Monitor to your computer.
