Compliance with FCC requirement 15.407(c) and IC requirement RSS-210 JA9.4

Data transmission is always initiated by software, which is passed down through the MAC, through the digital and analog baseband, and finally to the RF chip. Several specific packets are initiated by the MAC. These are the only ways the digital baseband portion will turn on the RF transmitter, which is then turned on at the end of the packet. Therefore, the transmitter will be on only while one of the aforementioned packets is being transmitted. In other words, this device automatically discontinues transmission in case of either absence of information to transmit or operational failure.

Positioning the TV Large screen TVs are heavy. 2 people are required to carry and handle a large screen TV.

Use the same equipment and bottom frames of the unit firmly as illustrated.

Do not insert the AC power cord into the power socket outlet before all the connectors are made.

Ensure that you always have easy access to the AC power cord and outlet to disconnect the TV from the AC outlet.

Before you move the TV disconnect attached cables to prevent damage to connectors, especially the TV tuner.

Be sure to unplug the AC power plug from the AC outlet before moving or carrying the unit.
