

MPN: MO-TRX-10GSFP-SR-MLX

SFP+ 10 Gbps, MMF, 300 m, LC, DDMI support, Compatible with QNAP TRX-10GSFP-SR-MLX

Micro-Optics products provide seamless connectivity for all your current and future network hardware needs.

- **100% QNAP Compatible****

Specifications

|                    |                          |                                   |
|--------------------|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| Features           | Brand compatibility      | QNAP                              |
|                    | Certification            | MSA                               |
|                    | Compatible products      | QNAP TRX-10GSFP-SR-MLX compatible |
|                    | Easy to install          | Yes                               |
|                    | Form factor              | SFP+                              |
|                    | Hot-Plug support         | Yes                               |
|                    | Hot-swap                 | Yes                               |
|                    | Plug and Play            | Yes                               |
| Performance        | Duplex system            | Full                              |
|                    | SFP transceiver standard | SR                                |
|                    | SFP transceiver type     | Fiber optic                       |
|                    | Wavelength               | 850 nm                            |
| Vendor information | Brand Name               | Lanview                           |
|                    | Warranty                 | 3 Year(s)                         |

Other images

