Service overview

HP Onsite Support Services provide high-quality remote assistance and onsite support for Your covered hardware, helping you to improve product uptime.

You have the flexibility to choose between multiple predefined service-level options featuring several onsite response or call-to-repair time and coverage window combinations in various durations to address Your specific service needs.

Service-level options with call-to-repair times provide IT managers with support specialists who will quickly begin troubleshooting the system to help return the hardware to operating condition within a specified timeframe.

You may be eligible for the following options of HP Onsite Support Services, subject to the eligibility of the HP PCs as you may have purchased:

- (a) Onsite support with optional device health insights;
- (b) Onsite support with predictive issue detection and alerts;
- (c) Onsite support with predictive issue detection, alerts, and preferred access.

The Onsite support with predictive issue detection and alerts as well as the Onsite support with predictive issue detection, alerts, and preferred access includes AI-powered predictive detection of PC issues and proactive alerts, powered by the HP Workforce Experience platform. IT teams can monitor the health status of devices and receive alerts about devices that need attention, repair or updates - all from a unified, one-stop dashboard (Please see further below for details on how IT may request remote or onsite support.) Alternatively, end users can receive the proactive alerts as pop-up notifications on their devices from which they can easily submit a ticket, enabling an automated process for scheduling remote and onsite support - where and when it's convenient for the end user.

Device issues predicted and resolved with this service include:

Subject to the ACL Acknowledgement, any specified onsite response times, parts availability, or provision of CSR parts is subject to local capability and parts availability in Australia.

In addition, you may choose to purchase Accidental Damage Protection for Your covered hardware. This cover has been arranged by HP with AIG Australia Limited ‘AIG’ Details of the Accidental Damage Protection and the terms and conditions governing this coverage are set out in the Product Disclosure Statement (Appendix A) and this HP Care Pack. Accidental Damage Protection is available as either Accidental Damage Protection (AUD$55 (including GST) service fee per claim) or Accidental Damage Protection (nil service fee). Full details of both options including coverage and exclusions are set out in Table 2 below.

For the Accidental Damage Protection optional service feature, you must report accidental damage to HP as soon as reasonably possible after the incident date so that HP can expedite system repair. The report must have a detailed explanation of the accident, including when, where, and how it occurred, and a description of damage to the unit.

Depending on the extent of prejudice suffered by AIG, Your accidental damage claim may be denied if this information is not provided within a reasonable period of time.

Remote problem diagnosis and support	To contact HP, the best method is creating a case digitally at https://support.hp.com/. After receiving and acknowledging your case, HP will work during the coverage window to isolate the hardware incident and to remotely troubleshoot, remedy, and resolve the incident with the Customer. Prior to any onsite assistance, HP may initiate and perform remote diagnostics using electronic remote support solutions to access covered products, or HP may use other means available to facilitate remote incident resolution. HP will provide telephone assistance for the installation of customer-installable firmware and customer self-repair parts during the service coverage window. Regardless of the Customer’s coverage window, Incidents with covered hardware can be reported 24x7 to HP specialized agents via the website (Visit https://support.hp.com, choose the “Business Support” tab and select “Create a new case”). Customers may subsequently manage their cases from there. During customer service windows, customers may then contact HP by phone or chat for any created case. Alternatively, customers may call the HP Customer Support Center between 8:00 am and 5:00 pm local time, Monday through Friday excluding HP holidays. Extended phone support may be available. Service levels and response times may vary depending on your geographic location. Customers who contact HP directly by phone or chat will reach standard agents, who will start by collecting required administrative elements.to identify customers and verify their entitlement to the service. This alternate route may take longer and require more customer effort than starting all the support experiences from the web, which is highly recommended HP will acknowledge the receipt by logging the call, assigning a case ID, and communicating that case ID to the Customer. HP will reasonably determine the resolution of all reported incidents.

Work may be temporarily suspended if parts or additional resources are required, but work will resume when they become available. ● Repair is considered complete upon HP verification that the hardware malfunction has been corrected or that the hardware has been replaced. For hardware incidents that cannot, in HP's judgment, be resolved remotely, an HP authorised representative will provide onsite technical support on covered hardware products to return them to operating condition. Subject to the ACL Acknowledgement above: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● For certain products, HP may elect to replace such products in lieu of repairing them. Feature	Delivery specifications

Onsite response time for hardware support	For incidents with covered hardware that cannot be resolved remotely, HP will use commercially reasonable efforts to respond onsite within the specified onsite response time. Onsite response time specifies the period of time that begins when the initial call has been received and acknowledged by HP, as described in 'General provisions'. The onsite response time ends when the HP authorised representative arrives at the Customer's site, or when the reported event is closed with explanation that HP has determined it does not currently require an onsite intervention. Response times are measured during the coverage window only and may be carried over to the next day for which there exists a coverage window. Response time options available for eligible products are specified in the service-level options table. All response times are subject to local availability. Contact a local HP sales office for detailed information on service availability.
Escalation management	HP has established formal escalation procedures to facilitate the resolution of complex incidents. Local HP management coordinates incident escalation, enlisting the skills of appropriate HP resources and/or selected third parties to assist with problem-solving.
Access to electronic support information and services	As part of this service, HP provides access to certain commercially available electronic and web-based tools. The Customer has access to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Certain capabilities that are made available to registered users, such as downloading selected HP firmware or patches which may require additional entitlement through HP Software Support agreements, subscribing to hardware-related proactive service notifications, and participating in support forums for solving problems and sharing best practices with other registered users. ● Expanded web-based searches of entitled technical support documents, to facilitate faster problem-solving. ● Certain HP proprietary service diagnostic tools with password access. ● A web-based tool for submitting questions directly to HP. The tool helps to resolve problems quickly with a pre-qualification process that routes the support or service request to the resource qualified to answer the question. The tool also allows the status of each support or service request submitted to be viewed, including cases submitted by telephone. ● Search of HP and third-party hosted knowledge databases for certain third-party products in order to retrieve product information, get answers to support questions, and participate in support forums. This service may be limited by third-party access restrictions.
HP electronic remote support solution	For eligible products, the HP electronic remote support solution provides robust troubleshooting and repair capabilities. It can include remote system access solutions and may offer a convenient central point of administration and an enterprise view of open incidents and history. An HP support specialist will only use the remote system access with the Customer's authorisation. Coverage

This service provides coverage for eligible HP PCs, including HP-supported and supplied internal components such as memory. This includes coverage for attached HP-branded accessories included in the original packaging of the PC, such as a wired mouse, wired keyboard, or AC power adapter, but does not include external HP monitors. All-in-one devices do include the display, which is not considered a separate, external monitor. However, a second monitor attached to an all-in-one device, for example, would not be covered by this HP Care Pack.. Docking stations will be covered if your laptop, docking station, and HP Care Pack are purchased at the same time and on the same order or customer invoice...

- Subject to the ACL Acknowledgement above: consumable items including, but not limited to, removable media, batteries and tablet PC pens, maintenance kits, and other supplies, as well as user maintenance and non-HP devices, are not covered by this service.
- Batteries for mobile HP commercial PCs are covered up to the warranty term of the HP hardware product or 1,000 charge cycles, whichever comes first; and for replacement parts and components that are discontinued, an upgrade path may be required. HP will work with the Customer to recommend a replacement. Not all components will have available replacements in all countries due to local support capabilities.

Prerequisites

For hardware onsite response time options, HP strongly recommends that the Customer install and operate the appropriate HP remote support solution, with a secure connection to HP, in order to enable the delivery of the service. For hardware call-to-repair time commitments, HP requires that the Customer install and operate the appropriate HP remote support solution, with a secure connection to HP, in order to enable the delivery of the service. HP will notify the Customer of any further requirements, specifications, and exclusions prior to conducting the service; please contact a local HP representative for further details if applicable. If the Customer does not deploy the appropriate HP remote support solution, HP may not deliver the services described in this Agreement. However, non-compliance with the obligations does not affect any right or remedy the Customer may have at law (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law). Installation of customer-installable firmware is the responsibility of the Customer and is not included in the service.

For Customers with licenses to firmware-based software products (features implemented in firmware activated by the purchase of a separate software license product) or licensed firmware, the Customer must also have, if available, an active HP Software Support agreement to receive, download, install, and use related firmware updates. HP will provide, install, or assist the Customer with the installation of firmware updates as previously described in this Agreement only if the Customer has the license to use the related software updates for each system, socket, processor, processor core, or end-user software license as allowed by the original HP or original manufacturer software license terms.

Customer responsibilities

If the Customer does not act upon the specified customer responsibilities, HP or the HP authorised service provider may not be able to deliver the services as described in this Agreement. However, non-compliance with the obligations does not affect any right or remedy the Customer may have at law (including a consumer guarantee under the Australian Consumer Law).

For eligible products, , Customers are responsible for enabling the service on devices as described below.

Gen11+ (and some Gen 10 devices) and future generation devices launched after 2024	HP Services Scan (HPSS) is pre-installed on HP’s standard image starting with 2024 devices. HPSS periodically checks for HP Premium+ Support entitlement on the device, and if found, will automatically download the HP Insights agent, enabling these devices to function optimally and provide pop-up alerts on end users’ devices. For custom/corporate ready images, devices will get HPSS through the Windows Update process. HP Chromebooks with ChromeOS and HP Retail Point-of-Sale (RPOS) devices require a dashboard to view the proactive alerts and create service tickets. There will not be an option to send alerts to the end user via these devices. To use this dashboard on HP Chromebooks, a one-time integration of the Google Admin Console is needed with the dashboard. For details on this integration, please see this reference guide. To enable the service on RPOS, a separate HP notebook or desktop device must be allocated to host the dashboard to manage alerts and create service tickets. To enable the service on RPOS, see this RPOS reference guide
Gen10 devices	These devices will get HP Services Scan (HPSS) downloaded through the Windows Update process. HPSS periodically checks for HP Premium+ Support entitlement on the device, and if found, will automatically download the HP Insights agent, enabling these devices to function optimally and provide pop-up alerts on end users’ devices
Gen9 devices	These devices will get HP Services Scan (HPSS) downloaded through the Windows Update process. For HPSS to periodically check for entitlements on the device and automatically download software to enable the service, the device needs to have end-user consent. This can be given through the consent screen seen in the OOBE process. Once consent is provided, HPSS will check for HP Premium+ Support entitlement on the device, and if found, will automatically download the HP Insights agent, enabling these devices to function optimally and provide pop-up alerts on end users’ devices

If required by HP, the Customer or HP authorised representative must activate the hardware product to be supported within 10 days of purchase of this service, using the registration instructions within the Care Pack or the email document provided by HP, or as otherwise directed by HP. In the event that a covered product changes location (subject to HP's consent), activation and registration (or a proper adjustment to existing HP registration) is to occur within 10 days of the change.

The customer's devices must run Windows 10 1703 or higher, Pro, Enterprise, or Education editions only; Windows 10 Home editions are not supported by this service.

Please contact a local HP representative for further details on requirements, specifications, and exclusions (if any).

Upon HP's request, the Customer will be required to support HP's remote problem resolution efforts.

- Start self-tests and install and run other diagnostic tools and programs.
- Install customer-installable firmware updates and patches.
- Perform other reasonable activities to help HP identify or resolve problems, as requested by HP.

The Customer is responsible for installing, in a timely manner, critical customer-installable firmware updates, as well as Customer Self Repair parts and replacement products delivered to the Customer.

The Customer agrees to pay additional charges if the Customer requests that HP install customer-installable firmware updates or patches. Any additional charges to the Customer will be on a time-and-materials basis, unless otherwise previously agreed in writing by HP and the Customer.

Subject to the ACL Acknowledgement above, in cases where Customer Self Repair parts or replacement products are shipped to resolve a problem, the Customer is responsible for returning the defective part or product within a time period reasonably designated by HP. In the event HP does not receive the defective part or product within the designated time period or if the part or product is degaussed or otherwise physically damaged upon receipt by the Customer, the Customer will be required to pay the HP list price less any applicable discounts for the defective part or product, as determined by HP.

The Customer is responsible for the security of the Customer's proprietary and confidential information. The Customer is responsible for properly sanitizing or removing data from products that may be replaced and returned to HP as part of the repair process to ensure the safeguarding of the Customer's data. The repair of goods may result in loss of data. Customer should regularly back up data and is responsible for implementing appropriate backup procedures.

A call-to-repair time commitment does not apply when the Customer chooses to have HP prolong diagnosis rather than execute recommended recovery procedures.

If the Customer requests scheduled service, the call-to-repair time period begins at the agreed-upon scheduled time.

You may consider obtaining your own financial product advice about AD Coverage from a person who is able to give such advice under an Australian Financial Services Licence.

If the Master Policy is terminated, AIG will continue to meet claims for the AD Coverage specified in the PDS and Terms provided that You have accepted Your AD Coverage prior to termination of the Master Policy and Your AD Claim is made within the duration of Your AD Coverage.

HP will give You prior written notice if the Master Policy ends but does not need to notify You if substantially similar cover applies or will apply for such period (or remainder of such period).
