

Epson TM-L500A (107): Combo, PS short, EDG, LCD, Tray

DATASHEET

Streamline airport operations and speed up passenger processing with the Epson TM-L500A, which prints boarding passes.

The TM-L500A is a complete family of products that covers all printing needs associated with passenger processing. Whether with an LCD screen or control panel, roll holder or fanfold insert, BP tray model - the wide range of options allows every airport to select the best configuration for its operations.

Fuss-free integration

Easily integrate the TM-L500A into any airport; the printer is fully compatible with airline communication protocols, including the AEA2009 protocol and all IATA standards for printing boarding passes. It also incorporates a driver for printing from any Windows® application. This wide compatibility protects the future of your investment by supporting IATA's CUPPS initiative for next-generation airport software platforms.

Improved check-in efficiency

Improve efficiency at the check-in desk and reduce customer queues with the TM-L500A's fast print speeds. And with its ultra-compact, lightweight design, there's more placement flexibility, so you can reclaim valuable counter space.

Flexible features

Customise the TM-L500A to meet the individual needs of each airport or airline with a range of options, including LCD screen and control board, RFID reader/writer and external paper roll holder. Adapting for kiosks is simple thanks to the modular construction and removable casing.

Easy to use

Even the most inexperienced operator will find the TM-L500A easy to use. It enables the creation and storage of profiles containing unique settings to make switching between multiple airlines' settings fast and straightforward.
