Sandberg Wireless Office Headset Mono + Dock is a wireless headset for calls and online meetings at the office. The lightweight mono design keeps one ear free, while the flexible microphone arm ensures the mic can be easily positioned optimally. The headset connects wirelessly to a computer, smartphone, or tablet, allowing you to move freely during calls. The built-in battery provides power for a full workday, and the included dock makes it easy to charge the headset when not in use. A practical solution for those who spend many hours on phone calls and online meetings and want free hands throughout the workday.
