Which Size?

Measure on the inside of the stretched out hand, distance from wrist up to the top of the ring finger. This length provides an indication of the required size.

- Length up to around 170mm: Small
- Length from around 170 to 190mm: Medium
- Length of 190mm and above: Large

Research

the objective of the development was to realise a contour which allows for a relaxed hand position. The resulting shape of the HandshoeMouse fully supports the hand. Only a minor contraction of the muscles of the fingers is required to operate the switches and scroll wheel. Arms and hands remain in a relaxed position. This is contrary to a conventional computer mouse which requires continuous lifting of the fingers and thus muscle action.
